

Level Completion Certificate

This is to certify that:

Hanna Qahoush

Successfully completed

Scientific Research Methods

The course reviewed the theoretical and philosophical foundations of scientific research, where the learner was acquainted with the types of research curricula in the different sciences in addition to the stages and steps of conducting scientific research from identifying and analyzing research problems, the concept of both types of hypotheses, tools and methods for collecting data and information and their characteristics by (4) training and interactive hours.

3/7/2026